REMARKS

50X1-HUM

1. From 0545 and 0615 on 19 September 1954, at 0600 on 22 and 24 September, and from 0600 and 0615, and 1645 and 1700 on 25 September, firing practice probably by medium AA guns was heard on the Apetlon AAA Range. From 1600 to 1700 on 24 September, medium AA guns practiced firing at a sleeve target towed by a piston engine aircraft which repeatedly changed its course from a southern to a northern direction.

2. On 22 September, a column of 10 trucks passed Apetlon and went toward the camp. Each truck towed a medium AA gun and was driven by a soldier with red-bordered black epaulets. On 24 September, another column of 10 trucks went toward Camp Apetlon. Each truck also towed a medium AA gun and was driven by a soldier with red-bordered black epaulets.

4. On 21 September, a one-star general was observed in sedan which was parked at Apetlon and driven by a soldier with red-bordered black epaulets.

5. On 25 September, a column of van-like trucks and driven by soldiers with red-bordered black epaulets came from the AAA camp and passed through Apetlon. The trucks were of a type which was observed for the first time. They had a superstructure which was about 50 percent longer and somewhat higher than that of the standard van-like truck.
